FOR

M.A. SOCIOLOGY PARTS I & II
(ANNUAL SYSTEM) EXAMINATION, 2011

GUIDELINES FOR CONTINUOUS INTERNAL ASSESSMENT (20%) FOR REGULAR STUDENTS OF POST-GRADUATE COURSES (Annual System) Except M.Sc. (Mathematics)
(Effective from the First Year Admissions for the Academic Session 2004-2005)

1. The Syndicate has approved the following guidelines, mode of testing and evaluation including Continuous Internal Assessment of students :

   (i) Terminal Evaluation : 80 %
   (ii) Continuous Assessment : 20 %
   (iii) Continuous Assessment may include written assignment, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance etc.
   (iv) In order to incorporate an element of Continuous Internal Assessment of students, the Colleges/Departments will conduct three tests as quantified below :

(a)	Three Tests :
	I	25	} 2 best tests	=	50
	II	25
	III	25
(b)	Snap Tests			:	15
(c)	Participation in class discussions			:	10
(d)	Term Paper/s			:	15
(e)	Attendance			:	10

Total : 100 reduced to 20

2. Weightage of 2 marks for attendance component out of 20 marks for Continuous Assessment shall be available only to those students who attend 75% and more of classroom lectures/seminars/ workshops. The break–up of marks for attendance component for theory papers shall be as under :

Attendance Component		Mark/s for Theory Papers
(a)	75 % and above upto 85 %	: 1
(b)	Above 85 %	: 2

3. It shall not be compulsory to pass in Continuous Internal Assessment. Thus, whatever marks are secured by a student out of 20% marks, will be carried forward and added to his/her score out of 80 %, i.e. the remaining marks allocated to the particular subject and, thus, he/she shall have to secure pass marks both in the University examinations as well as total of Internal Continuous Assessment and University examinations.

4. Continuous Internal Assessment awards from the affiliated Colleges/Departments must be sent to the Controller of Examinations, by name, two weeks before the commencement of the particular examination on the proforma obtainable from the Examination Branch.

SPECIAL NOTE:

(i) The theory question paper will be of 80 marks and 20 marks will be for internal assessment.

(ii) In the case of Postgraduate Courses in the Faculties of Arts, Science, Languages, Education, Design & Fine Arts, and Business Management & Commerce (falling under the purview of Academic Council), where such a provision of Internal Assessment/Continuous Assessment already exists, the same will continue as before.

(iii) The marks obtained by a candidate in Continuous Internal Assessment in Postgraduate Classes from the admissions of 2004 will be shown separately in the Detailed-Marks-Card (D.M.C.).

OUTLINES OF TESTS, SYLLABI AND COURSES OF READING IN THE SUBJECT OF M.A. SOCIOLOGY (ANNUAL SYSTEM) PARTS I& II FOR THE EXAMINATION OF 2011.

M.A. PART I

Course No	Title
SOC R 101	Sociological Thought
SOC R 102	Research Methodology & Techniques of Social Research
SOC R 103	Social Stratification—Concepts & Theories
SOC R 104	Indian Society

M.A.PART II

Course No	Title
SOC R 201	Theoretical Perspectives in Sociology
SOC R 202	Social Development
SOC O 203	Urban Sociology
SOC O 204	Sociology of Family & Gender
SOC O 205	Dissertation

NOTE

1. In M.A. Part I all courses, i.e 101,102,103 & 104 are compulsory.

2. In M.A. Part II Course No. 201 & 202 are compulsory and the students will have to choose any two courses out of the optional papers - O 203, O 204 and O 205.

3. R stands for required course. O stands for optional course.

4. The students enrolled in Correspondence Studies Department can opt for Dissertation (SOC O 205) and the students opting for dissertation (SOC O 205) will be required to take one optional paper out of the remaining two i.e either SOC O 203 or SOC O 204. Dissertation will be available for first eight students, in order of merit, from among those who will have scored at least 50% in the aggregate in M.A. Part I. Dissertation will be of 100 marks.

5. Dissertation (SOC O 205) cannot be offered by students studying in the affiliated colleges.

SOC R-101: SOCIOLOGICAL THOUGHT

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PAPER SETTER AND THE CANDIDATES:

(i) The theory question paper will be of 80 marks and 20 marks will be for internal assessment.

(ii) For improvement and reappear candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in theory paper will proportionately be increased to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment.

The paper setter must put note (ii) in the question paper.

There shall be 9 questions in all. The first question shall be short answer type containing 15 short questions spread over the whole syllabus to be answered in about 25-30 words each. The candidate is required to attempt any 10 short answer type questions of 2 marks each. It shall carry 20 marks and shall be compulsory question. Rest of the paper shall contain 4 units. Each unit shall have two questions with internal choice i.e. the candidate shall attempt one question from each Unit – 4 in all.

OBJECTIVES -

Industrial Revolution and consequent transformation of mode of production brought dramatic and traumatic changes in the traditional feudal structure of the societies in Europe through the emergence of capitalism. The changes brought by these events had far reaching effects on the economic and social systems of these societies and commanded attention of thinkers. The discipline of Sociology was the child of these social and academic developments. Different thinkers viewed the societal changes from different perspectives, presented their distinct analysis, causal and otherwise, of these changes, made efforts to highlight the different features of the emerging modern industrial capitalist society and also attempted to predict the future of this society. Some of them engaged their attention on the issues related to development of Sociology as a Science. They laid down the theoretical foundations of Sociology on which the edifice of modern sociological theories is erected. Besides, they also tried to analyse and interpret other sociological issues such as education, power structures, religion and the like. Among these sociological thinkers prominent are Karl Marx, Emile Durkheim, Max Weber and Vilfredo Pareto, beginning with Saint Simon and August Comte.

Acquaintance with the writings of these four thinkers would equip the students with theoretical insights to know, analyse and interpret the social scenario around them and would also familiarize them with the different sociological perspectives and theories. While teaching emphasis shall be on critical analysis of the writing of these four thinkers.

COURSE OUTLINE:

Unit I- Historical socio-economic background of the emergence of Sociology

Impact of industrial revolution and of new mode of production on society and economy.

The emergence of capitalistic mode of production-Nature and features of capitalism.

The enlightenment and its impact on thinking and reasoning.

A brief review of Enlightenment thought with special reference to Rousseau and of the Conservative reaction to it, with special reference to St- Simon and Comte.

Unit - II- Karl Marx

Karl Marx: Intellectual Background.

Marxian Dialectical materialism as a philosophical perspective of change and its laws.

Marx's theory of social change

Materialistic interpretation of history: As a perspective of explaining transformation of human society through different stages. Economic determinism. Mode of production and social structure. Base and super structure.

Marx's analysis of emergence and development of capitalism in terms of laws of increasing accumulation and concentration of capital and of increasing misery, alienation.

Emergence of classes and class conflict. Proletariat revolution and future of capitalism. Classless society.

Unit - III- Emile Durkheim

Emile Durkheim: Intellectual background.

Theory of division of labour and Social solidarity.

Each unit shall have two questions with internal choice i.e. the candidate shall attempt one question from each Unit – 4 in all.

OBJECTIVE

The course plan aims to provide exposure to the student about fundamentals of various research techniques and methods (both quantitative and qualitative). It describes the basic assumptions in adopting different methodologies for different kinds of research themes. In the first section, it introduces the philosophical ideas underlying the emergence of different methodologies of social sciences. The subsequent part of the syllabus attempts to sensitize students to develop conceptual clarity, which can help them in their future research. Teaching certain quantitative and qualitative methods, statistical techniques would help in the analysis of data.

UNIT-I

Schools of Epistemology:

Empiricism, Positivism, Interpretative; Emerging methodological issues.

Sociology as a Science:

Science and Scientific approach, Nature of social phenomena, Pure & Applied research, Values, Objectivity; Value Neutrality.

UNIT-II

Conceptual Foundations of Research:

Concept, Fact, Theory: Theory construction, Hypothesis: Induction & Deduction.

Research Design; Exploratory, Descriptive, Experimental.

Sampling - Basic Sampling Issues, Probability sampling & Non-Probability sampling.

UNIT-III

Data Sources - Primary Data, Secondary Data

Methods & Techniques of Data collection- Questionnaire, Mailed Questionnaire, Interview schedule, Telephone interview, Observation, Participant observation, Case study method, content analysis, Focused Group Discussion, Ethnography, Oral history, Narratives.

UNIT-IV

Qualitative Vs Quantitative Research:

Methodological dilemmas & issues, Logic of triangulation – Mixing of qualitative & quantitative methodologies.

Measurement-Levels, Problems (Reliability and validity)

Scaling Techniques- Thurstone, Likert, Guttman & Bogardus

Statistics in Social Research- Measures of central tendency (Mean, Median and Mode),

Measures of Dispersion(Standard deviation, Quartile deviation), Measures of Association (Phi, Gamma, Lambda, Spearmans correlation, Pearsons R, Chi square)

OBJECTIVES

This course is designed to equip the students of Sociology with the understanding of the patterns and theoretical explanations of social inequalities and their pervasive consequences both for society and individual, which are debilitating for some and empowering for others.

The student is expected to understand the basic but overlapping concepts often used interchangeably, meaning of social stratification, its dimensions and forms-namely caste and class. They are also expected to imbibe the knowledge of various theoretical perspectives on caste and class systems of social stratification within their intellectual repertory.

Since no system is static and tends to change in response to economic and political forces students are expected to know about the emergence of new classes and process of social mobility within and between different strata. Social mobility through the policy of protective discrimination along with its implications for individual and society, resurgence of caste, caste and politics aim to inform the student about the contemporary Indian Society and its dynamics. And finally the students should be able to understand the implications of race, ethnicity and gender for social stratification after taking this course.

COURSE OUTLINE

UNIT-I

Concepts

Inequality, hierarchy, differentiation, social stratification. Dimensions of social stratification. A brief introduction to caste, class, race, ethnicity & gender.

Theoretical Formulations

Functional theory-Davis & Moore, Parsons, & Warner.

Conflict theory - Marx & Dahrendorf

Multidimensional/combined theories- Weber, Lenski, Daniel Thorner,

Andre Beteille.

UNIT-II

Caste

Perspectives on caste-indological, attributional, interactional.

Caste & Mobility - perspectives-historical, political, institutional/affirmative action (scheduled castes, Scheduled Tribes & Other Backward Classes);

Mandal Commission-The Sociological Debate.

Resurgence of caste in contemporary Indian Society.

UNIT-III

Class

Class in advanced societies, Middle Class & New Middle Class.

Class & mobility: Occupation and mobility, education and mobility

Caste & Class – interface

UNIT-IV

Race, Ethnicity and Gender

Basic concepts in the study of racial & ethnic relations:

Race, Racial group, ethnic groups (ideology & practice); minority & majority relations; Causes of racial & ethnic inequality.

Theoretical perspectives , bio-social competition, power- conflict.

Gender Inequality

Gendered social roles, Gendering of work roles

Theoretical perspectives-Coercive bases of gender inequality

Voluntaristic bases of gender inequality & integrated theory of stability in systems of gender stratification.

OBJECTIVE

Although students have acquired a fairly adequate & comprehensive understanding of Indian Society at graduate level, this course is aimed at sensitizing them to the distinctive characteristics of Indian Society and various theoretical frameworks evolved by different Indian Sociologists. Further, different problems and issues faced by Indian society are also discussed in the course. The last section highlights the current ongoing debates in the Indian society thereby adding depth as well as insight to understanding of the subject.

UNIT-I

Colonial and nationalist Perspectives

Modernization and Development of Indian Society.

Basic pillars of Indian Social Structure:

Village, Caste, Joint Family.

UNIT-II

Theoretical Perspectives- Indological [Ghurye, Dumont]

Structural Functional- [Srinivas, Dube]

Marxian [D.P. Mukherjee, A.R. Desai]

Objectives

This course is intended to introduce the students to the substantive, theoretical and methodological issues which have shaped the sociological thinking in the latter half of the 20th century, and which continue to concern the practitioners of Sociology today. The main focus of this course will be on theoretical perspectives such as structural, functional and conflict theories, and symbolic interactionism, phenomenology, ethnomethodology and neomarxism. The course will also examine the theoretical relevance and analytical utility of the premises, methodology and conclusions of these diverse theoretical perspectives in understanding social structure and change.

COURSE OUTLINE:

UNIT- I

Structional Functionalism:Anthropological approaches-A.R. Radcliffe- Brown and Malinowski; Structural approaches- Nadel and Levi- Strauss;

Functional analysis-Parsons (Social Action, Social System);

Merton (Theories of middle range, Paradigm for functional analysis, manifest and latent functions and dysfunctions); Jeffery Alexander.(Neo-functionalism)

UNIT II

Symbolic Interactionism: Mead and Blumer

Ethnomethodology : Garfinkel

Phenomenology : Husserl, Schutz, Berger.

Dramaturgy : Goffman

UNIT III

Conflict Theory: R. Dahrendorf- Marx's Critique and dialetics of conflict; L. Coser- Functional analysis of Conflict

Critical Theories and Neo – Marxism: Lukacs Gramsci ; Habermas, Marcuse and Althusser.

UNIT IV

Recent trends in Sociological theorising:Anthony Giddens (structuration theory)

- Postmodernism (Frederic Jameson and Jean Baudrillard).

OBJECTIVES

This course introduces students to areas of substantive concern in urban sociology. Beginning with the meaning of urban it focuses on the stages that the city has undergone in the course of history. The patterns and trends of urbanization are discussed to familiarize them with patterns, processes (metropolitan-decentralization and migration) of urbanization along with the problems arising due to urbanization, such as slums, housing, urban poverty and urban employment. Role of city in social change forms a crucial part of the course.

Urban sociology has developed various theoretical perspectives to understand and analyze urban change and growth. This course aims to acquaint students with the theoretical developments in the field beginning from human ecology to the postmodern approach. The course contains a component focusing specifically on different aspects of social organization of urban India such as urban social stratification, urban family, neighborhood and voluntary associations. The earlier topics outlined above also focus on the Indian urban situation. The finally the course attempts to introduce students to the goals of urban planning, factors affecting it and the planning initiative in the Five Year Plans. The students are also exposed to the issues of building sustainable and human cities for the future.
