PAPER III: MEDIEVAL INDIA: POLITICAL PROCESSES

COURSE CODE: HIS 221

Objective: This paper seeks to examine the major political developments in the Indian subcontinent during a span of nearly five centuries i.e. from the thirteenth to the seventeenth century. It aims at an in-depth analysis of the processes of state formation in the Delhi Sultanate and Mughal Empire. It lays emphasis on (1) the long-term strategies that enabled these two states to establish political control and (2) to explore the functioning of political institutions and the articulation of political ideologies. It pays equal attention to the changing composition of the ruling class as well as the response of the powerful local elements.

Pedagogy: In the teaching of this paper, effort is made to gradually build on the foundation of knowledge laid at the undergraduate level. Discussions on various sub-themes need to be interspersed with critical references to the contemporary sources as well as divergent historiographical approaches.

Note: The candidate will be evaluated on the basis of a written examination (80 marks) and Internal Continuous Assessment (20 marks). In the written examination, the question paper will have the following format:

The maximum marks for the written examination will be 80 and duration of the written examination will be 3 hours.

SEMESTER II

PAPER I PUNJAB IN THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY (COMPULSORY)

COURSE CODE: HIS 125

Objective: This paper challenges the notion of the eighteenth century as a 'dark period' in the Indian history and brings out the political process by which over a hundred new centres of power and not only the 'twelve misaldars' came up in the Punjab after the decline of the Mughal Empire. It deals with all the new rulers, Sikh as well as non-Sikh, in terms of their political organization, administrative arrangements, patterns of state patronage and the main features of urban as well as agrarian economy.

Pedagogy: The classroom teaching is supplemented by familiarizing the students with the maps of the area besides distribution of outlines for greater effectiveness. The evaluation is based on continuous internal assessment which comprises of unit tests, presentation of seminars, classroom participation and attendance.

Note: The candidate will be evaluated on the basis of a written examination (80 marks) and Internal Continuous Assessment (20 marks).The duration of written examination will be 3 hours. In the written examination, the question paper will have the following format:

PAPER II OPT. (ii) AGRARIAN ECONOMY OF MEDIEVAL INDIA

COURSE CODE: HIS 712

Objective: This paper aims at a multi-dimensional picture of the historical changes that occurred in the agrarian economy during the medieval period. For the sake of clarity and convenience, it is divided into two chronological phases, the Delhi Sultanate and Mughal Empire. It seeks to make an in-depth analysis of the social structure, with particular reference to the various classes of peasantry as well as the intermediaries. It pays adequate attention to the technological aspects of agriculture and irrigation, besides the land rights and agrarian revolts. It also examines the mechanism evolved by the state to extract the social surplus.

Pedagogy: Since it is assumed that the student is quite familiar with the political history of medieval India, it is possible to delve into advanced writings of historians like Irfan Habib and Satish Chandra. Changes in the agrarian economy are studied in relation to the social structure and state formation, with stress on interpreting evidence from contemporary documentation.

Note: The candidate will be evaluated on the basis of a written examination (80 marks) and Internal Continuous Assessment (20 marks). In the written examination, the question paper will have the following format:

The maximum marks for the written examination will be 80 and duration of the written examination will be 3 hours.

(i) There will be 9 questions in all. The candidate will be required to attempt 5 questions.

(ii) Question No.1 will be compulsory and carry 20 marks. It will consist of 15 short questions spread over the entire syllabus. The candidate is required to attempt any 10 short answer type questions. Each short question, carrying 2 marks, will be answered in 25-30 words.

(iii) Remaining part of the question paper will be divided into four units, corresponding to the four units of the syllabus. The paper setter will set 2 essay type questions from each unit. The candidate will attempt 4 essay type questions, selecting one from each unit. Each essay type question will carry 15 marks.

(iv) The paper setter is expected to follow the Essential Readings and set questions on the sub-themes or parts of a theme, rather than the topic as a whole.

PAPER- II,III & IV OPT. (vi) FEUDAL SOCIETY IN WESTERN EUROPE

COURSE CODE: HIS 421

Objectives: This paper is essentially devoted to the social history of medieval western Europe. It traces the transformation of the slave-owning society into the feudal society, besides exploring the institution of vassalage, with reference to the fief and manor. These structural changes are examined in the context of improvements in agricultural and industrial production, besides the expansion of trade and urbanization. This paper aims at understanding the methods of historical analysis that were developed by Marc Bloch, Henri Pirenne and Parry Anderson. It also enables us to sharpen our understanding of parallel developments in medieval India, as it opens the avenues of comparative analysis.

Pedagogy: The teacher is required to exercise considerable patience and diligence, so as to clarify key concepts like modes of production, kinship ties, vassalage, fief and manor. Equal attention is paid to material aspects of human life like agriculture, industry and trade. The study of historical maps, particularly relating to trade routes and urban centres, promises to benefit the young learners.

Note: The candidate will be evaluated on the basis of a written examination (80 marks) and Internal Continuous Assessment (20 marks). In the written examination, the question paper will have the following format:

The maximum marks for the written examination will be 80 and duration of the written examination will be 3 hours.

(i) There will be 9 questions in all. The candidate will be required to attempt 5 questions.

(ii) Question No.1 will be compulsory and carry 20 marks. It will consist of 15 short questions spread over the entire syllabus. The candidate is required to attempt any 10 short answer type questions. Each short question, carrying 2 marks, will be answered in 25-30 words.

(iii) Remaining part of the question paper will be divided into four units, corresponding to the four units of the syllabus. The paper setter will set 2 essay type questions from each unit. The candidate will attempt 4 essay type questions, selecting one from each unit. Each essay type question will carry 15 marks.

(iv) The paper setter is expected to follow the Essential Readings and set questions on the sub-themes or parts of a theme, rather than the topic as a whole.

Unit I

Political structure and social classes in the Roman empire; the slave mode of production; consequences of the Germanic invasions; the role of kinship ties; practice of vendetta and ownership of property; structure of the family.

Unit II

Origin, development and symbolism of the feudal ties; mutual obligations of lords and vassals; plurality of homage; evolution and types of fiefs; inheritance and sale of fiefs; nature and working of the manorial system.

Unit III

Methods of agricultural production; changes in the agricultural technology and cropping pattern; salient features of textile production; building and mining industries; military and navigational technology.

Unit IV

Emergence of the mercantile class; features of internal trade; international trade and the role of Hanse; emergence of urban centres; the organisation of guilds; the hierarchy of artisans; peasant and artisan revolts.

PAPER II, III & IV OPT. (xii) ISLAMIC TRADITIONS OF MEDIEVAL INDIA

COURSE CODE: HIS 426

Objectives: This paper places the Islamic traditions of medieval India in the larger context of the rise of Islam in West Asia. Apart from the theological and mystical dimensions of Islam in medieval India, it highlights the emergence of the popular syncretic culture that grew around the major sufi shrines. It also seeks to study the process of Islamization in three regions viz. Punjab, Kashmir and Bengal. This paper assumes significance in the light of the crisis that seems to afflict the Islamic societies in different parts of the world, besides serving as an intellectual response to the growing misunderstanding regarding Islam and its historical role.

Pedagogy: The teaching of this paper is based on the pioneer works of stalwarts like Khaliq Ahmad Nizami and Saiyid Athar Abbas Rizvi. In a large measure, it relies on the contributions of Richard M. Eaton that have fundamentally changed our understanding of the subject. While discarding monolithic explanations and unscientific stereotypes, this paper opens the mind to a complex and multi-layered past.

Note: The candidate will be evaluated on the basis of a written examination (80 marks) and Internal Continuous Assessment (20 marks). In the written examination, the question paper will have the following format:

The maximum marks for the written examination will be 80 and duration of the written examination will be 3 hours.

(i) There will be 9 questions in all. The candidate will be required to attempt 5 questions.

(ii) Question No.1 will be compulsory and carry 20 marks. It will consist of 15 short questions spread over the entire syllabus. The candidate is required to attempt any 10 short answer type questions. Each short question, carrying 2 marks, will be answered in 25-30 words.

(iii) Remaining part of the question paper will be divided into four units, corresponding to the four units of the syllabus. The paper setter will set 2 essay type questions from each unit. The candidate will attempt 4 essay type questions, selecting one from each unit. Each essay type question will carry 15 marks.

(iv) The paper setter is expected to follow the Essential Readings and set questions on the sub-themes or parts of a theme, rather than the topic as a whole.

Unit I (Theology and Mysticism)

Rise and expansion of Islam in West Asia and its significance in the world history; political, legal and theological structure of Islam; Muslim religious life and ulama in India during the thirteenth century; features of the mystic ideology; organization of the Chishti order; organization of the Suhrawardi order.

Unit II (Cult of Shrines)

The role of saints in Islam; history of the Ajmer shrine; rituals, management and finances of the Ajmer shrine; the legend of Salar Masud Ghazi; structure, festivities and practices at the Bahraich shrine; the shrine of Shaikh Farid at Pakpattan; its linkages with state, society and God.

Unit III (Liberal and Revivalist Trends)

The leadership, principles and organization of the Mahdawi movement ; the socio-religious outlook of Abul Fazl. The mission of Shaikh Ahmad Sirhindi and its impact; the works of Dara Shukoh on mysticism, comparative religion and Hinduism; the political, social and religious ideas of Shah Waliullah.

Unit IV (Process of Islamization)

Conventional theories of religious conversion; Islam and agrarian expansion in Bengal; rooting of Islam in Bengal; Islamization in Kashmir and the Rishi movement; Islamization in south-west Punjab and the Pakpattan shrine; the role of sufi folk literature in the diffusion of Islam.
