SEMESTER-VII (HONOURS)

ECONOMICS

HSS-ECO-DSC19(MAJ)-701: Intermediate Research Methodology

Typology of the course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS-ECO-DSC19(MAJ)-701

Level of the course: 400 level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To foster problem-solving competencies by applying theoretical knowledge to real-world situations.
- To encourage independent and collaborative learning through group discussions and projects.
- To teach fundamental economic principles, analytical skills, and how to apply economic theories to real-world issues.
- To develop critical thinking, base to research, and communication skills.

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, presentations and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10 x 2 = 20 Marks).
2. A total of 8 long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidate will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4 x 15 = 60 Marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance, presentations etc.
4. For reappear/improve candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

Hypothesis: Concepts, Types, Features and testing. Sampling: concepts, types, size, Sampling Error. Triangulation: Concept, Rationale and Process. Meta Analysis: Concept, Rationale and process.

Unit-II

Methods of Data collection. Data processing and data analysis.

Unit-III

Sampling Techniques: Simple Random Sampling; PPS Sampling; Stratified Random Sampling; Multistage Sampling (Applications only).

Unit-IV

Testing of Hypotheses: Parametric Tests: Applications of t, z, and F-test Statistics. Non- Parametric Tests: Application of χ2-, McNemar, Mann Whitney and Kendall's Coefficient Tests.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. Basic Concepts in Research:
   - Meaning and objectives of research
   - Research types and approaches
   - Geographic perspective in research

Unit-II

ii. Initiating and Conceptualising Research:
   - Research process; Conceptual and Theoretical Framework
   - Research problem: Selection and techniques
   - Research design: Meaning, need and features of a good design

Unit-III

iii. Data Collection Tools and Methods:
   - Types and sources of data

- Generation of primary data: Fieldwork, observation and survey
- Consideration of ethical issues in data collection

Unit-IV

iv. Data Analysis and Report writing
- Use of statistics in research
- Elements of report writing
- Referencing and bibliography

HSS-GEO-DSC20 (MAJ/MIN)-702: CULTURAL GEOGRAPHY

(Also offered as a Minor in Semester VII)

Course Code: HSS-GEO-DSC20 (MAJ/MIN)-702

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory+20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To introduce cultural geography as a relevant and fertile sub-discipline within geography.
- To introduce the conceptual and philosophical elements of cultural geography.
- To foster a comprehensive understanding of culture as a concept in geography.

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, quizzes and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10 x 2 = 20 Marks).
2. A total of 8 long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidate will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4 x 15 = 60 Marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance, etc.
4. For reappear/improve candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. Cultural Geography: Definition, Evolution and Development
ii. Place of Cultural Geography within Geography
iii. Doing Cultural Geography: Philosophical Bases and Methodologies

Unit-II

iv. Cultural Hearth, Cultural Region, Landscape, Environment
v. Nature/Human; Space/Place; Regionalism, Homeland
vi. Identity & Difference; Power & Discourse; Hegemony

Unit-III

vii. Landscape Evolution; Cultural Diffusion; Adaptation
viii. Acculturation, Assimilation; Resistance
ix. Representation; Construction; Socio-spatial Dialectic

Unit-IV

x. Transforming Landscapes
xi. Our Unequal World
xii. The Production of Knowledge and Representation in Cultural Geography

HSS-GEO-DSC21 (MAJ)-703: EVOLUTION OF GEOGRAPHIC THOUGHT

Course Code: HSS-GEO-DSC21(MAJ)-703

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory +20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To acquaint the students with the development of Geography as a field of study.
- To familiarize them with the philosophical underpinnings of the discipline.
- To enable them to understand the development of Geography in the context of developments in the larger arena of knowledge.

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, quizzes and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10 x 2 = 20 Marks).

3. For reappear/improve candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. Contributions of the Greeks & Romans w.r.t. Herodotus, Eratosthenes, Strabo and Ptolemy
ii. Geography in the Middle Ages: Contributions of Arabs; Dark Ages in Europe
iii. Geography and the Renaissance; Geography and the age of explorations and discoveries

Unit-II

iv. Pre-Classical and Classical Geography: Varenius, Kant, von Humboldt and Ritter
v. Darwinism in Geography, Environmental Determinism and Possibilism
vi. Regional Geography: French and British School, Geography as study of Areal Differentiation

Unit-III

vii. Dichotomies in Geography
   - Regional vs. Systematic Geography
   - Physical vs. Human Geography
   - Idiographic vs. Nomothetic Approach

Unit-IV

viii. Quest for a Scientific Flavour
   - Positivism, Schaefer and Geography as a Spatial Science, Quantitative Revolution
   - Scientific Method in Geography
   - Criticism of Positivism, Radicalism, Humanism, Behavioralism

HSS-GEO-DSC22 (MAJ)-704 GEOMORPHOLOGY

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (60 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment + 20 Practical)

- Terminal Examination: 60 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks + 20 Marks Practical
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Develop an understanding of important geomorphic concepts, processes and mechanisms that control the development of landscapes.
- Enable students to comprehend the interrelationships of processes, landforms, material and time.

Pedagogy: The introduction of conceptual and practical foundations of cartography shall form the core of teaching and learning. The students are to be encouraged to have active interactions with the teacher and the peer group. The learning shall be based on interactive and practical activities, discussions, and learning by going out in the field. A well-equipped cartographic laboratory with necessary apparatus and datasets will provide the necessary environment to prepare exercises.

Instructions for Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 questions in about 25-30 words each. Each question shall carry 2 marks (10x2=20 Marks).
2. A total of 8 long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidate will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 10 marks (Total 4x10=40 Marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory Question 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance, presentations etc.
4. For reappear/improvement candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put instruction (4) in the question paper.

Instructions for Practical Examination:

1. Each student shall prepare a practical file. They will be required to complete their practical file and get it signed from the class teacher at least 10 days before the commencement of their examination.
2. The practical examination in the form of viva-voce only shall be conducted at the respective Department of University itself. There will be no laboratory exercise at the time of examination.
3. Practical examination at the respective Department shall be conducted by one internal and one external examiner. The external examiner shall be appointed by the principal of the respective Departments in consultation with the senior most teachers of Geography in the Department of University.
4. Those students who fail in the practical examination are required to prepare a fresh practical file. However, students who failed in the theory paper only or are appearing in improvement examination, their practical marks of previous practical examination will be carried forward.
5. There will be 2 hours of teaching per week for this paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. Nature, scope and approaches of Geomorphology.
ii. Concepts of time, scale, and threshold in landform studies.
iii. Earth's Interior and Isostasy (Airy and Pratt).

Unit–II

iv. Fundamental Principles: Uniformitarianism, Geomorphic Cycles (Davis's and Penck's models), and Geomorphic Systems (equilibrium, process-response).
v. Geomagnetism: Characteristics, importance and applications of geomagnetism.
vi. Denudation chronology: Channel morphology, erosion surfaces, and slope development.

Unit-III

vii. Applied geomorphology: Understanding landslides, floods, coastal erosion, and desertification.
viii. Geomorphology in soil conservation, cryosphere dynamics, and mineral exploration.

ix. Terrain analysis for infrastructure planning (dams, roads) and environmental impact assessment.

Unit-IV

x. Field Methods: Basic surveying and terrain data collection.

xi. Geospatial Techniques: Application of GIS (Geographic Information Systems), Remote Sensing (RS), and GPS in mapping, monitoring, and modeling landform changes.

xii. Use of Geospatial AI (ML and DL) in geomorphology.

Practical Exercises/Lab-Work:

1. Construction and interpretation of Isometric Block Diagram of landforms
2. Mapping bedding plane, dip, strike, folds, faults and associated features
3. Using maps, satellite data, google earth for landform identification and demarcation
4. Study of fluvial landforms and processes using satellite imageries and field work
5. Measuring aspects of drainage basin and stream morphometry
6. Case Study: Mapping topographic and geomorphic attributes

HSS-GEO-DSC23 (MAJ)-705: ADVANCED CARTOGRAPHY

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (60 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment + 20 Practical)

- Terminal Examination: 60 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks + 20 Marks Practical
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To promote awareness among the students by various cartographic techniques available for graphic representation of relief, population, agriculture, industrial and transport data, the steps of construction of the techniques–their merits and demerits.
- Develop manual skills of drawing maps based on some of the above-mentioned data.
- Students will have understanding of benefits of GIS and computer-assisted cartography.

Pedagogy: The introduction of conceptual and practical foundations of cartography shall form the core of teaching and learning. The students are to be encouraged to have active interactions with the teacher and the peer group. The learning shall be based on interactive and practical activities, discussions, and learning by going out in the field. 5. There will be 2 hours of teaching per week for this paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. Cartography: Nature, scope and historical evolution
ii. Computer Assisted Cartography

Unit-II

iii. Types of Data and Data Sources
iv. Elements of Map Reading: Interpreting Physical and Cultural Features

Unit-III

v. Elementary conventional methods: Contours, Spot heights, Hachures, Hill shading
vi. Profiles: Transverse and Longitudinal

Unit-IV

vii. Representation of Population data and Agricultural data
viii. Representation of Climatic data: Temperature and Rainfall

Practical Exercises/Lab Work

1. Methods of landform analysis: Contours, Spot heights, Hachures, Hill shading
2. Profiles and cross sections: Transverse and Longitudinal
3. Methods of slope analysis and interpretation (Wentworth and Robinson)

4. Mapping geographical data: Choropleth and Dot Method
5. Constructing statistical diagrams: Bar Graphs, Line Graphs, Pie Charts

HSS-HIS-DSC19 (MAJ)-701: Research Methods in Social Sciences

Course Code: HSS-HIS-DSC19(MAJ)-701

Level of the course: 400 level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Have knowledge of rationale and methodology of conducting good quality research in social sciences.
- Prepare students for undertaking quality research for pursuing research as a career.
- Equip students in structuring research design, formulating research questions/hypotheses, tools to collect data and analyse it.

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, quizzes and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10 x 2 = 20 Marks).

The candidate will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4 x 15 = 60 Marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance, etc.
4. For reappear/improve candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

Introduction:

Social Science Research: Meaning, Nature and Importance

Research Methods in Social Sciences: Significance and Characteristics

Social Sciences Research Problems and Perspectives

Unit-II

Preparation of Research Design:

Research Design: Components and Preparation

Selection of Research Problem & Review of Literature

Hypothesis: Meaning, Formulation and Testing

Research Questions, Objectives & Tentative Chapterization

Unit-III

Data Collection and Sampling:

Primary and Secondary Sources of Data

Methods of Data Collection: Case Study, Questionnaire, Interview, Observation

Sampling: Meaning, Types and Selection

Unit-IV

Report Writing:

Report Writing: Types and Structure

Format of Report Writing

HSS-HIS-DSC20 (MAJ/MIN)-702: DEBATES IN INDIAN HISTORY

(Also offered as a Minor in Semester VII)

Course Code: HSS-HIS-DSC20 (MAJ/MIN)-702

Level of the Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Understand major historiographical debates on the Aryan homeland, Gupta age, and Indian feudalism.

- Explain key medieval processes and interpretations, including Islamization, state formation, and the eighteenth-century debate.
- Identify major colonial controversies and debates, such as the Black Hole, Orientalist-Anglicist dispute, and the 1857 greased cartridge issue.
- Analyze critiques of colonial rule, including the drain of wealth, Jallianwala Bagh debates, and views on caste and communalism.

Pedagogy of the Course Work: The course will be taught through lectures, thematic discussions, and critical readings to help students engage with major historiographical debates. Short primary and secondary source analyses, document-based discussions, and student-led presentations will encourage analytical thinking. Periodic tutorials, classroom debates, and brief writing exercises will train students to interpret conflicting historical narratives and develop independent historical arguments.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

2. A total of eight long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidates will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4x15=60 marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussion in the class, term papers, attendance, etc.

Course Content:

Unit-I

Modern writings on the Aryan homeland; the Golden Age of the Guptas; Indian Feudalism

Unit-II

Nature of State in Medieval India; the process of Islamization; the Eighteenth-century debate

Unit-III

The “Orientalist vs. Anglicist” Debate; Debate on Revolt of 1857; Debate on formation of INC

Unit-IV

Drain of wealth - Economic Critique; the Jallianwala Bagh Tragedy - Historiographical Debates; Divergent views on Communalism in colonial India

HSS-HIS-DSC21 (MAJ)-703: PEASANT RESPONSE AND RESISTANCE TO COLONIAL POLICY

Course Code: HSS-HIS-DSC21 (MAJ)-703

Level of the Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Understand major historiographical debates on peasant movements and the social composition of peasantry in India.
- Explain the transformations in agrarian structures, including landlordism and commercialization of agriculture.

- Assess the impact of global events and national struggles - such as WWI, the Great Depression, and key peasant movements - on rural society.
- Analyze organized peasant activism, including the Kisan Sabha, regional uprisings, and the peasantry's role in the national movement.

Pedagogy of the Course Work: The course will be conducted through lectures, close reading of scholarly texts, and classroom discussions to build conceptual understanding. Students will engage in case-study analysis of major peasant movements, participate in tutorials, and presentations. Emphasis will be on developing critical thinking, understanding historiographical debates, and encouraging independent inquiry into agrarian history.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

HSS-HIS-DSC23 (MAJ)-705: INTRODUCTION TO THE STUDY OF RELIGION

Typology of Course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS-HIS-DSC23 (MAJ)-705

Level of the Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Understand core concepts of primitive religion by identifying the nature, scope, and functions of animism, mana, totemism, myth, and ritual.
- Differentiate major approaches to studying religion, including anthropological, historical, psychological, and phenomenological perspectives.
- Explain key experiential theories of religion through the ideas of Otto, Eliade, and Turner on the holy, sacred experience, ritual, and liminality.
- Analyze religion in social and cultural contexts using models by Kulke, Redfield, Eck, and Srinivas to interpret state formation, traditions, sacred geography, and social change.

Pedagogy of the Course Work: The course will be taught through a blend of interactive lectures, close reading of primary and secondary texts, and classroom discussions to encourage conceptual clarity on theories of religion. Visual and audio materials (maps, ritual videos, ethnographic excerpts) will support experiential understanding, while short response papers and group presentations will develop analytical and comparative skills. Field-based observations of local religious practices or spaces may be incorporated to connect theoretical models with lived realities.

PSYCHOLOGY

HSS-PSY-DSC19 (MAJ) - 701: Research Methodology in Social Sciences

Typology of Course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS- PSY- DSC19 (MAJ)- 701

Level of the Course: 400 level

Total Credits: 4 (Theory 2 + Tutorial 1 + Practical 1)

Maximum Marks: 100 (60 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment + 20 Practical)

Course Duration: Total = 75 hours (Lectures - 30 Hours; Tutorial - 15 Hours; Practical – 30 Hours)

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (60 Theory + 20 Practical + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 60 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Practical Examination: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To understand the importance of statistics in psychological research.
- To develop the ability to summarize and describe data sets using descriptive statistics.
- To analyze relationships between variables using correlation techniques.
- To understand basics of hypothesis testing and determining statistical significance in psychological research.

Pedagogy of the Course Work:

- 80% Lectures and in-class activities (including expert lectures)
- 20% Assignment

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (Total 10x1.5=15 marks).
2. A total of eight long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidates will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 3x15=45 marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussion in the class, term papers, attendance, etc.
4. For reappear/improvement candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionally to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Instructions for Practical Examinations:

1. Each student shall prepare a practical file. They will be required to complete their practical file and get it signed by the class teacher at least 10 days before the commencement of their examination.
2. The practical examination in the form of viva-voce only shall be conducted at the respective Department of University itself. There will be no laboratory exercise at the time of examination.
3. Practical examination at the respective Department shall be conducted by one internal and one external examiner. The external examiner shall be appointed by the principal of the respective Department in consultation with the senior-most teacher of Psychology in the University Department.
4. Those students who fail in the practical examination are required to prepare a fresh practical file. However, students who failed in the theory paper only or are appearing in improvement examination, their practical marks of previous practical examination will be carried forward.
5. There will be 2 hours of teaching per week for this paper.

Credits Descriptions:

Core Course - 04 Credits (03 Theory and 01 Practical)

01 Credit = 01 Hour theory Per Week

01 Credit = 02 Hours per Week practical

Course Content:

Unit-I

Introduction:

Importance of statistics in psychological research; Descriptive and Inferential Statistics; Scales of Measurement;

Unit-II

Standard Scores

Standard Scores: Properties and Computation using raw Scores; Hypothesis Testing; Testing a Hypothesis about a Single Mean; Steps of Hypothesis Testing; Null hypothesis& Alternate hypothesis; Retention & Rejection of Null hypothesis; p - values and statistical significance; Errors in hypothesis testing (Type I & Type II Errors); t - test (independent & paired sample); Difference between Parametric and Non-Parametric Tests

Unit-III

Correlation:

Correlation: Direction and Degree; Correlation and Causation; Pearson's Coefficient of Correlation:

Assumptions and Computation from raw scores; Cautions concerning

Correlation Coefficients

Unit-IV Practical

Any two;

1. Compute correlation of a data set

2. Compute T test for a data set
3. Do a literature review for any two variables.

GEOGRAPHY

HSS-GEO-DSC24 (MAJ/MIN)- 801: ADVANCED CLIMATOLOGY

(Also offered as Minor in Semester VIII)

Course Code: HSS-GEO-DSC24(MAJ)-801

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (60 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment + 20 Practical)

• Terminal Examination: 60 Marks

• Internal Assessment: 20 Marks + 20 Marks Practical

• Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To foster comprehensive understanding of atmospheric phenomena; their dynamics and global climates.

Pedagogy: The introduction of conceptual and practical foundations of cartography shall form the core of teaching and learning. The students are to be encouraged to have active interactions with the teacher and the peer group. The learning shall be based on interactive and practical activities, discussions, and learning by going out in the field. A well-equipped cartographic laboratory with necessary apparatus and datasets will provide the necessary environment to prepare exercises.

Instructions for Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 questions in about 25-30 words each. Each question shall carry 2 marks (10x2=20 Marks).
2. A total of 8 long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidate will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 10 marks (Total 4x10=40 Marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory Question 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance, presentations etc.
4. For reappear/improvement candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put instruction (4) in the question paper.

Instructions for Practical Examination:

1. Each student shall prepare a practical file. They will be required to complete their practical file and get it signed from the class teacher at least 10 days before the commencement of their examination.
2. The practical examination in the form of viva-voce only shall be conducted at the respective Department of University itself. There will be no laboratory exercise at the time of examination.

3. Practical examination at the respective Department shall be conducted by one internal and one external examiner. The external examiner shall be appointed by the principal of the respective Departments in consultation with the senior most teachers of Geography in the Department of University.
4. Those students who fail in the practical examination are required to prepare a fresh practical file. However, students who failed in the theory paper only or are appearing in improvement examination, their practical marks of previous practical examination will be carried forward.
5. There will be 2 hours of teaching per week for this paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. The Earth's Atmosphere: Nature, Composition and Structure.
ii. Solar Radiation; Mechanisms of Heat Transfer; Global Distribution; Radiation Budget.
iii. Temperature: Concept, Measurement, Scales; Vertical and Horizontal Distribution.

Unit-II

iv. Atmospheric Humidity: Sources, Measurement, and Influencing factors
v. Precipitation: Measurements, Forms, and Global Distribution.
vi. Atmospheric Pressure: Influencing Factors, Pressure belts, and Planetary circulation

Unit-III

vii. Tropical Cyclones: Formation, Growth Mechanisms and Effects
viii. Mid-Latitude Cyclones: Formation, Mechanisms and Effects
ix. Jet Streams and Polar Vortex: Formation, Characteristics and Impacts on weather

Unit-IV

x. Indian Monsson: Concept, Features, Types, and Mechanism
xi. Drivers of Indian Monsoon; MJO, ENSO and IOD Linkages
xii. Western Disturbances in India: Origin, Features and Impacts

Practical Exercises/Lab Work

1. Representation of Temperature and Rainfall Data: Line & Bar Graph, Hyetograph
2. Climograph and Hythergraph: Construction and Interpretation
3. Drawing Isohyets and Isotherms: Interpolation Techniques
4. Statistical Analysis of Climate Data: Trend and Variability
5. Measurement of Climate Extreme Indices: Temperature and Precipitation
6. Reading digital weather maps/apps/Doppler Radar Imagery

HSS-GEO-DSC25 (MAJ)-802: FUNDAMENTALS OF REMOTE SENSING

Course Code: HSS-GEO-DSC25 (MAJ)-802

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (60 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment + 20 Practical)

• Terminal Examination: 60 Marks

• Internal Assessment: 20 Marks + 20 Marks Practical

• Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To expose the students to geo-spatial technology and develop their skills of interpretation and map making using remote sensing.
- To introduce the students to the application of this new technology in solving various problems related to the management and planning of resources.

Pedagogy: The introduction of conceptual and practical foundations of cartography shall form the core of teaching and learning. The students are to be encouraged to have active interactions with the teacher and the peer group. The learning shall be based on interactive and practical activities, discussions, and learning by going out in the field. A well-equipped cartographic laboratory with necessary apparatus and datasets will provide the necessary environment to prepare exercises.

Instructions for Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 questions in about 25-30 words each. Each question shall carry 2 marks (10x2=20 Marks).

2. A total of 8 long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidate will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 10 marks (Total 4x10=40 Marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory Question 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance, presentations etc.

Instructions for Practical Examination:

1. Each student shall prepare a practical file. They will be required to complete their practical file and get it signed from the class teacher at least 10 days before the commencement of their examination.
2. The practical examination in the form of viva-voce only shall be conducted at the respective Department of University itself. There will be no laboratory exercise at the time of examination.
3. Practical examination at the respective Department shall be conducted by one internal and one external examiner. The external examiner shall be appointed by the principal of the respective Departments in consultation with the senior most teachers of Geography in the Department of University.
4. Those students who fail in the practical examination are required to prepare a fresh practical file. However, students who failed in the theory paper only or are appearing in improvement examination, their practical marks of previous practical examination will be carried forward.
5. There will be 2 hours of teaching per week for this paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. Remote Sensing: Concept, Types and Applications
ii. Remote Sensing Platforms, Sensors and Scanning Systems
iii. Introduction to Major Remote Sensing Satellites

Unit-II

iv. Radiation Principles; Electromagnetic Spectrum
v. Energy-Atmosphere Interaction; Atmospheric Windows
vi. Energy-Earth Interaction; Spectral Signatures of Surface Features

Unit-III

vii. Image: Meaning and Types and Characteristics
viii. Resolution: Spatial, Spectral, Radiometric and Temporal
ix. Basics of Image Processing; Elements of Image Interpretation.

Unit-IV

x. Thermal Remote Sensing: Concept, Mechanism and Application

xi. Microwave Remote Sensing: Concept, Mechanism and Application

xii. Hyperspectral Remote Sensing: Concept, Mechanism and Application

List of Practical/Lab Exercises:

1. Measuring Satellite Orbital Characteristics
2. EMR: Wavelength, Frequency and Energy Characteristics
3. Spectral Signature of Surface Features
4. Visual Interpretation of Satellite Imageries
5. Image Processing: Polynomial Rectification-Georeferencing
6. Preparing Image Subset and Mosaic
7. Digital Image Interpretation; Pixel and Histogram Analysis
8. Supervised Classification and Accuracy Assessment
9. Unsupervised Classification and Accuracy Assessment
10. Satellite Data based Indices: NDVI, NDMI, EVI, NDWI, NDBI, VCI, TCI.

HSS-GEO-DSC26 (MAJ)-803: Fundamentals of Population Geography

Course Code: HSS-GEO-DSC26 (MAJ)-803

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory+20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Terminal Examination: 80 Marks

Internal Assessment: 20 Marks

Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To explain the geographical approach to the study of population.
- To focus on broad analysis of spatial patterns of attributes of population; population resource relationship and population problems and policies of developed and less developed countries.

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, quizzes and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10x2=20 Marks).
2. A total of 8 long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidate will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4x15=60 Marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance, etc.
4. For reappear/improve candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. Nature, scope and approaches to population geography; population geography in India.

ii. Sources, quality and reliability of population data: census; surveys (national sample survey, national family health survey etc.); registration (national population register, vital statistics registration) miscellaneous sources.

Unit-II

iii. Global Demographic Scenario

iv. Concepts, determinants and world patterns of following attributes of population:

- Distribution, Density, and Growth
- Fertility, Mortality and Migration (including laws of Migration)
- Age and Sex Composition

Unit-III

v. Linkages between Population Growth and Economic Development.

vi. Population Growth and Resource Scarcity (supply induced, demand induced; and structural scarcity) and Food Security

Unit-IV

vii. Population problems and policies of developed and less developed countries viii. Population problems and policies of Canada and India.

HSS-GEO-DSC27(MAJ)-804: GEOGRAPHY OF INDIA

Course Code: HSS-GEO-DSC27(MAJ)-804

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory+20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- The geographic dimensions of India in terms of its political and administrative characteristics.
- The physical and climatic attributes and their interface with developmental strategies.
- The human and economic dimensions of India in a spatial perspective.

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, quizzes and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10 x 2 = 20 Marks).

4. For reappear/improve candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. Unity in diversity of India: Unifying mechanism and divisive streaks.

ii. Evolution of the administrative map of India since Independence.

Unit-II

iii. Role of language, religion and culture in the formation of regions.

iv. The question of regional disparity and identity in India.

Unit-III

v. Regionalisation schemes of India: Physiographic (SP Chatterjee), Climatic (Koeppen and Trewartha), Agricultural (Jasbir Singh and CB. Mamoria), and Industrial (BN Sinha).

Unit-IV

vi. Northwest India as a Geographic Entity: Jammu & Kashmir, Ladakh, Himachal Pradesh, Haryana, Punjab and Union Territories of Delhi and Chandigarh.

vii. Land: Physiography and drainage.

viii. People: Population number, distribution and density, growth and urbanization.

ix. Economy: Agriculture, Industry and Transport.

HSS-GEO-DSC28(MAJ)-805: AGRICULTURE GEOGRAPHY

Course Code: HSS-GEO-DSC28(MAJ)-805

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory+20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Terminal Examination: 80 Marks

Internal Assessment: 20 Marks

Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To familiarize the students with the basics in agricultural geography, starting from its nature, contents, progress, approaches, determinants etc., to the important concepts like cropping intensity, crop-concentration, crop pattern, crop combinations, diversification, commercialization, agricultural development etc.
- To provide them with the understanding of agricultural regionalization, Land use and land capability classifications as well as classification of agricultural types.

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, quizzes and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10 x 2 = 20 Marks).
2. A total of 8 long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. 4. For reappear/improve candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. The nature, subject matter and progress in Agricultural Geography

ii. Approaches:(a) commodity, (b) systematic, (c) regional

iii. Determinants:(a) physical, (b) economic, (c) socio-cultural

Unit-II

iv. Selected agricultural concepts and their measurement

   a. Intensity of cropping
   b. Degree of commercialization
   c. Diversification and specialization
   d. Efficiency and productivity.

Unit-III

v. Land-use survey and classification (British and Indian)

vi. Land capability classification (U.S. and Britain)

Unit-IV

vii. Critical evaluation: Classification of the World Agriculture w.r.t. to Whittlesey viii. New perspectives: Contract Farming, Agri-business and Food Security

HSS-HIS-DSC24 (MAJ/MIN)-801: HISTORIOGRAPHY

(Also offered as Minor in Semester VIII)

Course Code: HSS-HIS-DSC24 (MAJ/MIN)-801

Level of the Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Understand major historiographical traditions in ancient and medieval India, including chronological challenges, historical sense, and key Indo-Muslim historians.
- Assess the evolution of modern Indian historiography, examining Indological, colonial, nationalist, and Marxist interpretations.
- Critically evaluate alternative perspectives, including Subaltern, feminist, postmodern approaches, and the methodological shifts introduced by the Annales School.
- Develop analytical skills to compare historiographical schools, interpret historical texts, and understand how scholarly frameworks shape the writing of Indian history.

Pedagogy of the Course Work: The course will be taught through concise lectures to introduce major historiographical traditions, close reading of primary and secondary texts to develop interpretive skills, structured class discussions and brief presentations to encourage critical reflection, and short written assignments to strengthen analytical, comparative, and review-based historical writing.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (Total 10x2=20 marks).
2. A total of eight long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidates will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4x15=60 marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussion in the class, term papers, attendance, etc.

Course Content:

Unit-I

Ancient Indian Historiography:

Historical Sense; Problem of Chronology; Indian Historical Tradition

Unit-II

Medieval Indo-Muslim Historiography:

General or Universal Histories of the Sultanate Period; Particular Histories: Nizami, Amir Khusrau, Isami, Barani

Royal Autobiographies; Historiography during the reign of Akbar; Historiography from Jahangir to Aurangzeb

Unit-III

Indology and the recovery of Indian History; Colonialist Historiography; Nationalist Historiography; Marxist Historiography

Unit-IV

Contribution of the Annales; Subaltern historiography; Feminist historiography; Postmodernism

HSS-HIS-DSC25 (MAJ)-802: HISTORICAL METHOD AND THOUGHT

Course Code: HSS-HIS-DSC25 (MAJ)-802

Level of the Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcome:

- Understand the nature and purpose of history, including historical facts, the historian - fact relationship, and history's value to society.
- Explain key methodological issues, such as causation, objectivity, the science - literature debate, and the role of morality and religion in historical writing.
- Interpret foundational theories of historical thought, including Marx's materialism, Weber's interpretive sociology, and Braudel's total history and long-duration approach.
- Analyse major historiographical approaches in India, through the works of Bhandarkar, Kosambi, and Ranajit Guha, focusing on social formations, materialist methods, and subaltern perspectives.

Pedagogy of the Course Work: The course will be delivered through lectures, critical readings, and class discussions to develop conceptual clarity on historical methods and historiography. Students will engage with primary and secondary texts, participate in tutorials and presentations, and practice source analysis and historiographical comparison. Emphasis will be placed on analytical thinking, understanding diverse theoretical frameworks, and applying them to interpret historical processes.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (Total 10x2=20 marks).
2. A total of eight long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidates will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4x15=60 marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussion in the class, term papers, attendance, etc.
4. For reappear/improvement candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionally to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

Historical Facts; Relationship between the historian and the facts; Value of History; History and Society

Unit-II

Causation in History; Issues of Objectivity; Religion and Morality; History as Science and History as Literature

Unit-III

Marx - Existence of modern world, Asiatic mode of production, historical materialism;

Weber - Ideas on existence of modern world, ideal types, power authority;

Braudel - Total history, time and variation in social processes, economic production and society.

Unit-IV

R.G. Bhandarkar - Ancient Indian Society and Social Formations, Political systems and state formation in ancient India;

D.D. Kosambi - Scientific materialism and Indian history, Transition and Social Change in Early India, Break from colonial/elitist historiography;

Ranajit Guha - Subalternity and Power, Colonial State and Forms of Governance, Critique of elite histories

HSS-HIS-DSC26 (MAJ)-803: ENVIRONMENTAL HISTORY OF INDIA

Course Code: HSS-HIS-DSC26 (MAJ)-803

Level of the Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Explain the foundational concepts and major ecological approaches used in Environmental History.

- Describe how early Indian civilizations - from prehistory to the Vedic and Mauryan periods - interacted with and shaped their environments.
- Analyse the ecological practices of medieval India and the impact of British colonial forest and resource policies.
- Evaluate independent India's environmental policies, major ecological movements, and current environmental challenges.

Pedagogy of the Course Work: The course will combine interactive lectures with visual aids and short readings to introduce key concepts in environmental history. Classroom discussions will encourage students to reflect on historical and contemporary environmental issues, while source-based learning - including archaeological evidence, historical texts, and policy documents - will help them understand environmental change through real examples. Students will also engage in brief field observations or local environmental studies to connect classroom learning with present-day contexts. Group presentations and written assignments will further develop their analytical, research, and communication skills.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

2. A total of eight long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidates will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4x15=60 marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussion in the class, term papers, attendance, etc.

HSS-HIS-DSC27 (MAJ)-804: HISTORY OF MEDIA

Typology of Course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS-HIS-DSC27 (MAJ)-804

Level of the Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Understand early communication forms in India by identifying key oral traditions, early scripts, inscriptions, manuscripts, and visual media.

- Explain medieval media developments such as Persian literary influence, growth of regional writings, early information networks, and transitions toward proto-print cultures.
- Analyze colonial media evolution including the emergence of print journalism, vernacular press, press restrictions, and the role of media in the nationalist movement.
- Assess media changes in independent India by examining the expansion of print, radio, and television, the impact of political events on media freedom, and technological transformations from cinema to digital convergence.

Pedagogy of the Course Work: The course will be taught through interactive lectures supported by short readings and visual material to introduce students to key developments in media history. Classroom discussions will encourage students to connect historical media practices with present-day communication forms. Source-based learning - using inscriptions, early newspapers, archival material, and audio-visual sources - will help students understand media evolution through evidence. Short assignments, group tasks, and brief field or media-analysis exercises will further develop analytical skills and promote active engagement with the themes of the course.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (Total 10x2=20 marks).
2. A total of eight long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidates will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4x15=60 marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussion in the class, term papers, attendance, etc.

HSS-HIS-DSC28 (MAJ)-805: HISTORY OF HIMALAYAN REGIONS

Typology of Course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS-HIS-DSC28 (MAJ)-805

Level of the Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Understand the historical evolution and physical geography of the Himalayan regions, including their ecological diversity, social formations, and cultural landscapes.
- Analyze major political, economic, and cultural processes-such as trade networks, state formation, migration, and religious interactions-that have shaped societies across the Western, Central, and Eastern Himalayas.
- Critically examine oral and written traditions, ethnographic sources, and archaeological evidence to interpret Himalayan history within broader South Asian and trans-Himalayan contexts.
- Evaluate contemporary issues of identity, geopolitics, cultural syncretism, and development in the Himalayan regions through interdisciplinary perspectives from history, anthropology, religion, and political studies.

Pedagogy of the Course Work: The course will combine lectures, seminar discussions, and experiential learning to provide a multidimensional understanding of the Himalayan regions. Students will engage with maps, archival texts, oral histories, and visual materials, while group projects, presentations, and short research assignments will develop analytical and interpretive skills. Field-based learning and digital tools, and documentaries, will enhance understanding of cultural, social, and political dynamics. The pedagogy emphasizes interdisciplinary learning, critical thinking, and connecting historical knowledge with contemporary issues.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (Total 10x2=20 marks).
2. A total of eight long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidates will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4x15=60 marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussion in the class, term papers, attendance, etc.

HSS-ECO-DSC23 (MAJ)-705: Game Theory

Typology of the course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS-ECO-DSC23 (MAJ)-705

Level of the course: 400 level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To foster problem-solving competencies by applying theoretical knowledge to real-world situations.
- To encourage independent and collaborative learning through group discussions and projects.
- To teach fundamental economic principles, analytical skills, and how to apply economic theories to real-world issues.

- To develop critical thinking, base to research, and communication skills.

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, presentations and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10 x 2 = 20 Marks).
2. A total of 8 long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidate will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4 x 15 = 60 Marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance, presentations etc.
4. For reappear/improve candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

Introduction to Game Theory. Theory of Rational Choice. Coming Attractions: Interacting Decision-makers.

Unit-II

Nash Equilibrium Theory: Strategic Games with Example of Prisoner's Dilemma and Working on a joint Project. Nash Equilibrium: Meaning, Example of Duopoly and Matching Pennies. Selfish and Altruistic Behaviour with example of Stag Hunt.

Unit-III

Coordination Games, Provision of Public Goods, Dominated Actions, Weak Domination and Strong Domination with examples of Voting amongst others.

Unit-IV

Repeated Games: The Prisoner's Dilemma, Main Idea, Preferences, Repeated Games, Finitely Repeated Prisoner's Dilemma, Infinitely Repeated Prisoner's Dilemma with suitable examples.

HSS-GEO-DSC19(MAJ)-701: Research Methodology in Social Sciences

Course Code: HSS-GEO-DSC19(MAJ)-701

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory+20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes: This paper is to familiarize the students with basics of research and its significance. It aims to make them understand the ways data are collected, classified, tabulated and analysed. It also trains them to differentiate between casual and research-based statements that help them in their life

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, quizzes and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10 x 2 = 20 Marks).

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. Basic Concepts in Research:

- Meaning and objectives of research
- Research types and approaches
- Geographic perspective in research

Unit-II

ii. Initiating and Conceptualising Research:

- Research process; Conceptual and Theoretical Framework
- Research problem: Selection and techniques
- Research design: Meaning, need and features of a good design

Unit-III

iii. Data Collection Tools and Methods:

- Types and sources of data
- Generation of primary data: Fieldwork, observation and survey
- Consideration of ethical issues in data collection

Unit-IV

iv. Data Analysis and Report writing

- Use of statistics in research
- Elements of report writing
- Referencing and bibliography

HSS-GEO-DSC20 (MAJ/MIN)-702: CULTURAL GEOGRAPHY

(Also offered as a Minor in Semester VII)

Course Code: HSS-GEO-DSC20 (MAJ/MIN)-702

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory+20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To introduce cultural geography as a relevant and fertile sub-discipline within geography.
- To introduce the conceptual and philosophical elements of cultural geography.
- To foster a comprehensive understanding of culture as a concept in geography.

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, quizzes and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10 x 2 = 20 Marks).

4. For reappear/improve candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. Cultural Geography: Definition, Evolution and Development
ii. Place of Cultural Geography within Geography
iii. Doing Cultural Geography: Philosophical Bases and Methodologies

Unit-II

iv. Cultural Hearth, Cultural Region, Landscape, Environment

v. Nature/Human; Space/Place; Regionalism, Homeland

vi. Identity & Difference; Power & Discourse; Hegemony

Unit-III

vii. Landscape Evolution; Cultural Diffusion; Adaptation

ix. Representation; Construction; Socio-spatial Dialectic

Unit-IV

x. Transforming Landscapes

xi. Our Unequal World

xii. The Production of Knowledge and Representation in Cultural Geography

HSS-GEO-DSC21 (MAJ)-703: EVOLUTION OF GEOGRAPHIC THOUGHT

Course Code: HSS-GEO-DSC21(MAJ)-703

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory +20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To acquaint the students with the development of Geography as a field of study.
- To familiarize them with the philosophical underpinnings of the discipline.
- To enable them to understand the development of Geography in the context of developments in the larger arena of knowledge.

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, quizzes and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10 x 2 = 20 Marks).

4. For reappear/improve candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. Contributions of the Greeks & Romans w.r.t. Herodotus, Eratosthenes, Strabo and Ptolemy
ii. Geography in the Middle Ages: Contributions of Arabs; Dark Ages in Europe
iii. Geography and the Renaissance; Geography and the age of explorations and discoveries

Unit-II

iv. Pre-Classical and Classical Geography: Varenius, Kant, von Humboldt and Ritter

v. Darwinism in Geography, Environmental Determinism and Possibilism

vi. Regional Geography: French and British School, Geography as study of Areal Differentiation

Unit-III

vii. Dichotomies in Geography

- Regional vs. Systematic Geography
- Physical vs. Human Geography
- Idiographic vs. Nomothetic Approach

Unit-IV

viii. Quest for a Scientific Flavour

- Positivism, Schaefer and Geography as a Spatial Science, Quantitative Revolution
- Scientific Method in Geography
- Criticism of Positivism, Radicalism, Humanism, Behavioralism

HSS-GEO-DSC22 (MAJ)-704 GEOMORPHOLOGY

Typology of Course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS-GEO-DSC22 (MAJ)-704

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (60 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment + 20 Practical)

- Terminal Examination: 60 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks + 20 Marks Practical
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Develop an understanding of important geomorphic concepts, processes and mechanisms that control the development of landscapes.
- Enable students to comprehend the interrelationships of processes, landforms, material and time.

Pedagogy: The introduction of conceptual and practical foundations of cartography shall form the core of teaching and learning. The students are to be encouraged to have active interactions with the teacher and the peer group. The learning shall be based on interactive and practical activities, discussions, and learning by going out in the field. A well-equipped cartographic laboratory with necessary apparatus and datasets will provide the necessary environment to prepare exercises.

Instructions for Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 questions in about 25-30 words each. Each question shall carry 2 marks (10x2=20 Marks).
2. A total of 8 long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidate will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 10 marks (Total 4x10=40 Marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory Question 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance, presentations etc.
4. For reappear/improvement candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put instruction (4) in the question paper.

Instructions for Practical Examination:

1. Each student shall prepare a practical file. They will be required to complete their practical file and get it signed from the class teacher at least 10 days before the commencement of their examination.
2. The practical examination in the form of viva-voce only shall be conducted at the respective Department of University itself. There will be no laboratory exercise at the time of examination.

3. Practical examination at the respective Department shall be conducted by one internal and one external examiner. The external examiner shall be appointed by the principal of the respective Departments in consultation with the senior most teachers of Geography in the Department of University.
4. Those students who fail in the practical examination are required to prepare a fresh practical file. However, students who failed in the theory paper only or are appearing in improvement examination, their practical marks of previous practical examination will be carried forward.
5. There will be 2 hours of teaching per week for this paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. Nature, scope and approaches of Geomorphology.
ii. Concepts of time, scale, and threshold in landform studies.
iii. Earth's Interior and Isostasy (Airy and Pratt).

Unit–II

iv. Fundamental Principles: Uniformitarianism, Geomorphic Cycles (Davis's and Penck's models), and Geomorphic Systems (equilibrium, process-response).
v. Geomagnetism: Characteristics, importance and applications of geomagnetism.
vi. Denudation chronology: Channel morphology, erosion surfaces, and slope development.

Unit-III

vii. Applied geomorphology: Understanding landslides, floods, coastal erosion, and desertification.
viii. Geomorphology in soil conservation, cryosphere dynamics, and mineral exploration.
ix. Terrain analysis for infrastructure planning (dams, roads) and environmental impact assessment.

Unit-IV

x. Field Methods: Basic surveying and terrain data collection.
xi. Geospatial Techniques: Application of GIS (Geographic Information Systems), Remote Sensing (RS), and GPS in mapping, monitoring, and modeling landform changes.
xii. Use of Geospatial AI (ML and DL) in geomorphology.

Practical Exercises/Lab-Work:

1. Construction and interpretation of Isometric Block Diagram of landforms
2. Mapping bedding plane, dip, strike, folds, faults and associated features
3. Using maps, satellite data, google earth for landform identification and demarcation
4. Study of fluvial landforms and processes using satellite imageries and field work
5. Measuring aspects of drainage basin and stream morphometry
6. Case Study: Mapping topographic and geomorphic attributes

Typology of Course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS-GEO-DSC23 (MAJ)-705

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (60 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment + 20 Practical)

- Terminal Examination: 60 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks + 20 Marks Practical
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To promote awareness among the students by various cartographic techniques available for graphic representation of relief, population, agriculture, industrial and transport data, the steps of construction of the techniques–their merits and demerits.
- Develop manual skills of drawing maps based on some of the above-mentioned data.
- Students will have understanding of benefits of GIS and computer-assisted cartography.

Pedagogy: The introduction of conceptual and practical foundations of cartography shall form the core of teaching and learning. The students are to be encouraged to have active interactions with the teacher and the peer group. The learning shall be based on interactive and practical activities, discussions, and learning by going out in the field. 5. There will be 2 hours of teaching per week for this paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. Cartography: Nature, scope and historical evolution
ii. Computer Assisted Cartography

Unit-II

iii. Types of Data and Data Sources
iv. Elements of Map Reading: Interpreting Physical and Cultural Features

Unit-III

v. Elementary conventional methods: Contours, Spot heights, Hachures, Hill shading
vi. Profiles: Transverse and Longitudinal

Unit-IV

vii. Representation of Population data and Agricultural data
viii. Representation of Climatic data: Temperature and Rainfall

Practical Exercises/Lab Work

1. Methods of landform analysis: Contours, Spot heights, Hachures, Hill shading
2. Profiles and cross sections: Transverse and Longitudinal
3. Methods of slope analysis and interpretation (Wentworth and Robinson)
4. Mapping geographical data: Choropleth and Dot Method
5. Constructing statistical diagrams: Bar Graphs, Line Graphs, Pie Charts

HSS-HIS-DSC19 (MAJ)-701: Research Methods in Social Sciences

Typology of the course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS-HIS-DSC19(MAJ)-701

Level of the course: 400 level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Have knowledge of rationale and methodology of conducting good quality research in social sciences.
- Prepare students for undertaking quality research for pursuing research as a career.
- Equip students in structuring research design, formulating research questions/hypotheses, tools to collect data and analyse it.

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, quizzes and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10 x 2 = 20 Marks).
2. A total of 8 long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidate will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4 x 15 = 60 Marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance, etc.
4. For reappear/improve candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

Introduction:

Social Science Research: Meaning, Nature and Importance

Research Methods in Social Sciences: Significance and Characteristics

Social Sciences Research Problems and Perspectives

Unit-II

Preparation of Research Design:

Research Design: Components and Preparation

Selection of Research Problem & Review of Literature

Hypothesis: Meaning, Formulation and Testing

Research Questions, Objectives & Tentative Chapterization

Unit-III

Data Collection and Sampling:

Primary and Secondary Sources of Data

Methods of Data Collection: Case Study, Questionnaire, Interview, Observation

Sampling: Meaning, Types and Selection

Unit-IV

Report Writing:

Report Writing: Types and Structure

Format of Report Writing

HSS-HIS-DSC20 (MAJ/MIN)-702: DEBATES IN INDIAN HISTORY

(Also offered as a Minor in Semester VII)

Course Code: HSS-HIS-DSC20 (MAJ/MIN)-702

Level of the Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Understand major historiographical debates on the Aryan homeland, Gupta age, and Indian feudalism.
- Explain key medieval processes and interpretations, including Islamization, state formation, and the eighteenth-century debate.
- Identify major colonial controversies and debates, such as the Black Hole, Orientalist-Anglicist dispute, and the 1857 greased cartridge issue.
- Analyze critiques of colonial rule, including the drain of wealth, Jallianwala Bagh debates, and views on caste and communalism.

Pedagogy of the Course Work: The course will be taught through lectures, thematic discussions, and critical readings to help students engage with major historiographical debates. Short primary and secondary source analyses, document-based discussions, and student-led presentations will encourage analytical thinking. Periodic tutorials, classroom debates, and brief writing exercises will train students to interpret conflicting historical narratives and develop independent historical arguments.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (Total 10x2=20 marks).
2. A total of eight long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidates will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4x15=60 marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussion in the class, term papers, attendance, etc.
4. For reappear/improvement candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionally to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

Modern writings on the Aryan homeland; the Golden Age of the Guptas; Indian Feudalism

Unit-II

HSS-SOC-DSC21(MAJ)-703: Understanding Population: Growth and Determinants

Typology of the course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS-SOC-DSC21 (MAJ)-703

Level of the course: 400 level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To foster problem-solving competencies by applying theoretical knowledge to real-world situations.
- To encourage independent and collaborative learning through group discussions and projects.
- The paper introduces basic determinants in population studies in order to comprehend basic dynamics of population.
- The students will also learn about the changes in population size, fertility, mortality and marriage.

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, quizzes and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10 x 2 = 20 Marks).

2. A total of 8 long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidate will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4 x 15 = 60 Marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance, etc.
4. For reappear/improve candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

Relationship between Population, Development, Environment and Society in the context of Population Size, Composition and Distribution of Population

Factors affecting Age, Structure and Sex Compositions; Demographic, Social and Economic implications

HSS-GEO-DSC24 (MAJ/MIN)-801: ADVANCED CLIMATOLOGY

(Also offered as Minor in Semester VIII)

Course Code: HSS-GEO-DSC24(MAJ/MIN)-801

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (60 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment + 20 Practical)

- Terminal Examination: 60 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks + 20 Marks Practical

• Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To foster comprehensive understanding of atmospheric phenomena; their dynamics and global climates.

Pedagogy: The introduction of conceptual and practical foundations of cartography shall form the core of teaching and learning. The students are to be encouraged to have active interactions with the teacher and the peer group. The learning shall be based on interactive and practical activities, discussions, and learning by going out in the field. A well-equipped cartographic laboratory with necessary apparatus and datasets will provide the necessary environment to prepare exercises.

Instructions for Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 questions in about 25-30 words each. Each question shall carry 2 marks (10x2=20 Marks).
2. A total of 8 long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidate will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 10 marks (Total 4x10=40 Marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory Question 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance, presentations etc.
4. For reappear/improvement candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put instruction (4) in the question paper.

Instructions for Practical Examination:

1. Each student shall prepare a practical file. They will be required to complete their practical file and get it signed from the class teacher at least 10 days before the commencement of their examination.
2. The practical examination in the form of viva-voce only shall be conducted at the respective Department of University itself. There will be no laboratory exercise at the time of examination.
3. Practical examination at the respective Department shall be conducted by one internal and one external examiner. The external examiner shall be appointed by the principal of the respective Departments in consultation with the senior most teachers of Geography in the Department of University.
4. Those students who fail in the practical examination are required to prepare a fresh practical file. However, students who failed in the theory paper only or are appearing in improvement examination, their practical marks of previous practical examination will be carried forward.
5. There will be 2 hours of teaching per week for this paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. The Earth's Atmosphere: Nature, Composition and Structure.

ii. Solar Radiation; Mechanisms of Heat Transfer; Global Distribution; Radiation Budget.

iii. Temperature: Concept, Measurement, Scales; Vertical and Horizontal Distribution.

Unit-II

iv. Atmospheric Humidity: Sources, Measurement, and Influencing factors

v. Precipitation: Measurements, Forms, and Global Distribution.

vi. Atmospheric Pressure: Influencing Factors, Pressure belts, and Planetary circulation

Unit-III

vii. Tropical Cyclones: Formation, Growth Mechanisms and Effects

viii. Mid-Latitude Cyclones: Formation, Mechanisms and Effects

ix. Jet Streams and Polar Vortex: Formation, Characteristics and Impacts on weather

Unit-IV

x. Indian Monsson: Concept, Features, Types, and Mechanism

xi. Drivers of Indian Monsoon; MJO, ENSO and IOD Linkages

xii. Western Disturbances in India: Origin, Features and Impacts

Practical Exercises/Lab Work

1. Representation of Temperature and Rainfall Data: Line & Bar Graph, Hyetograph
2. Climograph and Hythergraph: Construction and Interpretation
3. Drawing Isohyets and Isotherms: Interpolation Techniques
4. Statistical Analysis of Climate Data: Trend and Variability
5. Measurement of Climate Extreme Indices: Temperature and Precipitation
6. Reading digital weather maps/apps/Doppler Radar Imagery

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (60 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment + 20 Practical)

• Terminal Examination: 60 Marks

• Internal Assessment: 20 Marks + 20 Marks Practical

• Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To expose the students to geo-spatial technology and develop their skills of interpretation and map making using remote sensing.
- To introduce the students to the application of this new technology in solving various problems related to the management and planning of resources.

Pedagogy: The introduction of conceptual and practical foundations of cartography shall form the core of teaching and learning. The students are to be encouraged to have active interactions with the teacher and the peer group. The learning shall be based on interactive and practical activities, discussions, and learning by going out in the field. A well-equipped cartographic laboratory with necessary apparatus and datasets will provide the necessary environment to prepare exercises.

Instructions for Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 questions in about 25-30 words each. Each question shall carry 2 marks (10x2=20 Marks).
2. A total of 8 long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidate will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 10 marks (Total 4x10=40 Marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory Question 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance, presentations etc.
4. For reappear/improvement candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put instruction (4) in the question paper.

Instructions for Practical Examination:

1. Each student shall prepare a practical file. They will be required to complete their practical file and get it signed from the class teacher at least 10 days before the commencement of their examination.

2. The practical examination in the form of viva-voce only shall be conducted at the respective Department of University itself. There will be no laboratory exercise at the time of examination.
3. Practical examination at the respective Department shall be conducted by one internal and one external examiner. The external examiner shall be appointed by the principal of the respective Departments in consultation with the senior most teachers of Geography in the Department of University.
4. Those students who fail in the practical examination are required to prepare a fresh practical file. However, students who failed in the theory paper only or are appearing in improvement examination, their practical marks of previous practical examination will be carried forward.
5. There will be 2 hours of teaching per week for this paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

i. Remote Sensing: Concept, Types and Applications
ii. Remote Sensing Platforms, Sensors and Scanning Systems
iii. Introduction to Major Remote Sensing Satellites

Unit-II

iv. Radiation Principles; Electromagnetic Spectrum
v. Energy-Atmosphere Interaction; Atmospheric Windows
vi. Energy-Earth Interaction; Spectral Signatures of Surface Features

Unit-III

vii. Image: Meaning and Types and Characteristics
viii. Resolution: Spatial, Spectral, Radiometric and Temporal
ix. Basics of Image Processing; Elements of Image Interpretation.

Unit-IV

x. Thermal Remote Sensing: Concept, Mechanism and Application
xi. Microwave Remote Sensing: Concept, Mechanism and Application
xii. Hyperspectral Remote Sensing: Concept, Mechanism and Application

List of Practical/Lab Exercises:

1. Measuring Satellite Orbital Characteristics
2. EMR: Wavelength, Frequency and Energy Characteristics
3. Spectral Signature of Surface Features
4. Visual Interpretation of Satellite Imageries
5. Image Processing: Polynomial Rectification-Georeferencing
6. Preparing Image Subset and Mosaic
7. Digital Image Interpretation; Pixel and Histogram Analysis
8. Supervised Classification and Accuracy Assessment

9. Unsupervised Classification and Accuracy Assessment
10. Satellite Data based Indices: NDVI, NDMI, EVI, NDWI, NDBI, VCI, TCI.

HSS-GEO-DSC26(MAJ)-803: Advanced Research Methodology

Course Code: HSS-GEO-DSC26(MAJ)-803

Level Of Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100(80 Theory+20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: 60 hours

Learning Outcomes:

- This paper is to familiarize the students with basics of research and its significance.
- It aims to make them understand the ways data are collected, classified, tabulated and analysed.
- It also trains them to differentiate between casual and research-based statements that help them in their life

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, quizzes and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10x2=20 Marks).
2. A total of 8 long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. The candidate will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4x15=60 Marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussions in the class, term papers, attendance, etc.
4. For reappear/improve candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionately to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

Perspectives in Geographic Research, Geographic questions in research, Meaning and Types of Research, essential features of quality of a thesis in geography, issues pertinent to a thesis in geography.

Unit-II

Hypothesis: Meaning, characteristics, source, types, importance, limitations. Methods of data collection: questionnaire, schedule and interview. Sampling: need, bases, steps and types.

Unit-III

Data Analysis-Qualitative Methods-Phenomenology, ethnography, Grounded Theory, Content analysis, Discourse analysis, Comparison between quantitative and qualitative research, research paper and thesis writing in Geography.

Unit-IV

Basic Concept of SPSS (Statistical Package for Social Science): Meaning a operations and data analysis, Application of remote sensing and GIS. Report Writing Meaning, types of report, steps. Bibliography: meaning and types Framing of pilot research project.

HSS-HIS-DSC24 (MAJ/MIN)-801: HISTORIOGRAPHY

(Also offered as Minor in Semester VIII)

Typology of Course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS-HIS-DSC24 (MAJ/MIN)-801

Level of the Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Understand major historiographical traditions in ancient and medieval India, including chronological challenges, historical sense, and key Indo-Muslim historians.

- Assess the evolution of modern Indian historiography, examining Indological, colonial, nationalist, and Marxist interpretations.
- Critically evaluate alternative perspectives, including Subaltern, feminist, postmodern approaches, and the methodological shifts introduced by the Annales School.
- Develop analytical skills to compare historiographical schools, interpret historical texts, and understand how scholarly frameworks shape the writing of Indian history.

Pedagogy of the Course Work: The course will be taught through concise lectures to introduce major historiographical traditions, close reading of primary and secondary texts to develop interpretive skills, structured class discussions and brief presentations to encourage critical reflection, and short written assignments to strengthen analytical, comparative, and review-based historical writing.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (Total 10x2=20 marks).

4. For reappear/improvement candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionally to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

Ancient Indian Historiography:

Historical Sense; Problem of Chronology; Indian Historical Tradition

Unit-II

Medieval Indo-Muslim Historiography:

General or Universal Histories of the Sultanate Period; Particular Histories: Nizami, Amir Khusrau, Isami, Barani

Royal Autobiographies; Historiography during the reign of Akbar; Historiography from Jahangir to Aurangzeb

Unit-III

Indology and the recovery of Indian History; Colonialist Historiography; Nationalist Historiography; Marxist Historiography

Unit-IV

Contribution of the Annales; Subaltern historiography; Feminist historiography; Postmodernism

HSS-HIS-DSC25(MAJ)-802: HISTORICAL METHOD AND THOUGHT

Typology of Course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS-HIS-DSC25(MAJ)-802

Level of the Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks

- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Understand the nature and purpose of history, including historical facts, the historian - fact relationship, and history's value to society.
- Explain key methodological issues, such as causation, objectivity, the science - literature debate, and the role of morality and religion in historical writing.
- Interpret foundational theories of historical thought, including Marx's materialism, Weber's interpretive sociology, and Braudel's total history and long-duration approach.
- Analyse major historiographical approaches in India, through the works of Bhandarkar, Kosambi, and Ranajit Guha, focusing on social formations, materialist methods, and subaltern perspectives.

Pedagogy of the Course Work: The course will be delivered through lectures, critical readings, and class discussions to develop conceptual clarity on historical methods and historiography. Students will engage with primary and secondary texts, participate in tutorials and presentations, and practice source analysis and historiographical comparison. Emphasis will be placed on analytical thinking, understanding diverse theoretical frameworks, and applying them to interpret historical processes.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (Total 10x2=20 marks).
2. A total of eight long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus, at least two from each unit. HSS-HIS-DSC26 (MAJ)-803: ADVANCED RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

Typology of Course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS-HIS-DSC26 (MAJ)-803

Level of the Course: 400 Level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcome:

- Source Skills - Understand and analyze primary, secondary, and oral historical sources.
- Research Design - Prepare a clear research synopsis with questions, framework, and chapter plan.
- Writing Skills - Use proper note-taking, citation, organization, and ethical writing practices.
- Research Tools - Apply surveys, interviews, statistics, and digital tools for historical research.

Pedagogy of the Course Work: The course will be taught through interactive lectures, hands-on workshops on reading sources and writing, seminar discussions of sample research work, and practical training sessions on digital tools, data handling, and citation methods. Regular assignments, peer reviews, and supervised project exercises will reinforce methodological skills.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (Total 10x2=20 marks).

4. For reappear/improvement candidates, who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in the theory paper will be increased proportionally to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

Consultation of Sources:

How to read a History book; Examination of Primary Sources; Analysis of Secondary Works; Use of Oral traditions.

Methodology of Social Science Research:

Methods and Methodology

Limitations of Scientific Methodology in social research,

Research design, Nature and scope

Processes / steps in Research design.

Unit-III

Data Processing, analysis and Report Writing:

Statistical techniques of data analysis, Use of Computers

Report Writings: Types, Structure and Format

Accessories of Report Writings- Footnotes, References, Bibliography, Indexes

Unit-IV

Preparation of Dissertation and Research Papers:

Preparation of Dissertation and Research Papers, Tables and illustrations

Guidelines for writing the abstract, introduction, methodology, results and discussion, conclusion sections of a manuscript.

References, Citation and listing system of documents, Plagarism and Forgery

HSS-POL-DSC24 (MAJ/MIN)-801: Local Self Government in India

(Also offered as Minor in Semester VIII)

Typology of Course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS-POL-DSC 24 (MAJ/MIN)-801

Level of the Course: 400 level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- To develop problem-solving skills by translating theoretical knowledge into practical real-world applications.
- To promote both independent and collaborative learning through engaging in group discussions and projects.
- Students will be able to describe the basic concept of local self-government and importance of the committees on Balwant Roy and Ashok Mehta and effectiveness on 73rd and 74th Amendment Acts.
- Students will be able to analyze the effect of structure and functions of rural local government and influence of the personnel, financial, and control supervision of rural local bodies.

Pedagogy of the Course Work: The course will adopt a blended teaching approach, combining lectures, group discussions, and policy analysis exercises. Students will learn by talking about current policies, working in groups, and doing small projects.

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PAPER SETTER AND CANDIDATES:

1. Question 1 shall be compulsory question which containing 12 short answer type questions shall be set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words. Each part shall carry 2 marks (Total 10x2= 20 marks).
2. A total of eight long questions will be set out of the whole syllabus at least two from each unit. The candidates will attempt four questions selecting one from each unit and each question will carry 15 marks (Total 4x15= 60 marks). These will be in addition to the compulsory question at serial number 1.
3. Internal assessment may include written assignments, snap tests, participation in discussion in the class, term papers, attendance etc.
4. For reappear/improvement candidates(s), who have not been assessed earlier for internal assessment, the marks secured by them in theory paper will be increased proportionally to maximum marks of the paper in lieu of internal assessment. The paper setter must put note (4) in the question paper.

Course Content:

Unit-I

Introduction to Local Self-Government – Meaning, Evolution and Theories of Local Self-Government in India

Local Government as an Instrument of participatory Democracy and grassroots development

Unit-II

Rural Local Government and Constitutional Status – The 73rd Constitutional Amendment; Gram Panchayat, Panchayat Samiti, and Zila Parishad.

Composition, Functions and Powers.

Unit-III

Urban Local Government – The 74th Constitutional Amendment; Municipalities and Municipal Corporations.

Composition, Functions and Powers

Unit-IV

Rural-Urban Dynamics and Challenges

Rural- Urban Dichotomy

Challenges in the Functioning of the Local Self-Government: Financial Issues, Social and Political Challenges and Functional and Administrative Issues.

HSS-POL-DSC 26 (MAJ)-803: Advanced Research Methodology

Typology of Course: Major Discipline Specific Core

Course Code: HSS-POL-DSC 26 (MAJ)-803

Level of the Course: 400 level

Total Credits: 4

Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

Course Duration: Total = 60 Hours

Evaluation: Maximum Marks: 100 (80 Theory + 20 Internal Assessment)

- Terminal Examination: 80 Marks
- Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
- Examination Time: 3 Hours

Learning Outcomes:

- Have knowledge of rationale and methodology of conducting good quality research in social sciences.
- Prepare students for undertaking quality research for pursuing research as a career.
- Equip students in structuring research design, formulating research questions/hypotheses, tools to collect data and analyze it.
- Students will be able to explain and apply key concepts, principles, and ethical considerations in social science research.
- Apply research methodology skills to design a study, process and analyze data, and prepare a structured research report or dissertation using appropriate citation and academic standards.

Pedagogy of the course work: Written assignments, tests, quizzes and class discussions will be an integral part of the teaching programme to supplement the lecture.

Instructions for the Paper Setter and Candidates:

1. Question 1 shall be a compulsory question which contains 12 short answer type questions set from the whole syllabus. The student shall attempt any 10 parts in about 25-30 words each. Each part shall carry 2 marks (10 x 2 = 20 Marks).

Course Content:

Unit-I

Research in Social Science:

An Introduction to Social Science as system of norms

Social research and value Judgements

Constraints and Consequences of Social Science Research - Relevance of Social Research.

Unit-II

Methodology of Social Science Research:

Methods and Methodology

Limitations of Scientific Methodology in social research,

Research design, Nature and scope

Processes / steps in Research design.

Unit-III

Data Processing, analysis and Report Writing:

Statistical techniques of data analysis, Use of Computers

Report Writings: Types, Structure and Format

Unit-IV

Preparation of Dissertation and Research Papers:

Preparation of Dissertation and Research Papers, Tables and illustrations

Guidelines for writing the abstract, introduction, methodology, results and discussion, conclusion sections of a manuscript.

References, Citation and listing system of documents, Plagarism and Forgery
