UNDER NATIONAL EDUCATION POLICY (NEP) 2020
M.A./M.A.WITH RESEARCH IN PSYCHOLOGY

Semester-1 PSY-CORE - 101
Paper: Theories and Systems of Psychology - I

Total: 100 Marks
Theory: 80 Marks
Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
Time Allowed: 3hours

Objectives:
This course aims at helping the students to appreciate basic assumptions, principles and historical roots of modern scientific psychology and have an appraisal of the contemporary theoretical developments in modern psychology.

Pedagogy of the Course Work:
70 % lectures; 30 % seminars, assignments and discussion.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE PAPER-SETTERS AND THE CANDIDATES:

(a) There shall be 9 questions in all. Five questions have to be attempted.
(b) The first question shall be short answer type containing 15 short questions spread over the whole syllabus to be answered each in about 25 to 30 words. 10 questions out of the short answer questions have to be attempted. It shall carry 20 Marks and shall be compulsory question. Short answer type questions are of two marks each.
(c) Rest of the paper shall contain 4 Units. The entire syllabus has been divided into four units. Each unit shall have two questions and the candidates shall be given an internal choice i.e. the candidates shall attempt one question from each unit and each question shall carry 15 marks.

Core Course- 04 Credits (01-hour theory per week)

UNIT-I

Nature, History and Status of Psychology as a Science.

UNIT-II

Schools of Psychology: Structuralism, Functionalism, Behaviourism, Gestalt, Classical Psychoanalysis (Freud).

UNIT-III

Theoretical Perspectives in Psychology:
Psychodynamic (Neo Freudians – Adler, Jung), Behaviouristic (Pavlov and Skinner), Humanistic-Existential (Maslow, Rogers, Rollo May), Field Theory (Lewin).

UNIT-IV

Current Theoretical Developments:
Cognitive (Information processing), Neurocognitive Science, Developmental perspective (Piaget), Social Learning (Bandura), Indian Perspective.

Semester-1 PSY-CORE-102
Paper: Experimental Psychology

Total: 100 Marks
Theory: 80 Marks
Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
Time Allowed: 3hours

Objectives:
This course aims at helping the students to acquire an intensive knowledge about the experimental insights in the different areas of learning, classical conditioning, operant conditioning, avoidance and punishment.

Pedagogy of the Course Work:
70 % lectures; 30% seminars, assignments and discussion.

Course- 04 Credits (02-hour practical per week)

UNIT-A Total: 60 Marks
Practical: 45 Marks; Internal Assessment:15 Marks

Four practicals, one in each of the following areas, have to be carried out:
1. Classical/Instrumental conditioning.
2. Thinking/Concept formation/Problem solving.
3. Sensory memory & short term memory.
4. Verbal learning.

Students should be familiar with the working of the following apparatus:
1. Depth perception apparatus (Howard-Dolman).
2. Brightness Discrimination Apparatus.
3. Apparent Movement Apparatus.
4. Kinaesthetic Figural after Effect Apparatus.
5. Time Sense Apparatus.
6. Sound-Cage.
7. Audio Generator.
8. Skinner Box.
9. Shuttle Box.
10. Hand-withdrawal Conditioning Apparatus.

UNIT-B Total: 40 Marks

(i) Theoretical long question: 20 Marks
(ii) Research assignment:15 Marks
Internal Assessment for Unit B (ii): 05 Marks

(i) Theoretical long question: 20 Marks
There will be two long questions from the following and students have to attempt any one out of the two during practical examination.

Classical and Instrumental Conditioning: Meaning and basic principles (UCS, UCR, CS, CR), Pavlov's experiments, Processes- acquisition, extinction, generalization, discrimination, Reinforcement- positive and negative, Punishment and schedules of reinforcement, Educational and real-life applications

Thinking, Concept Formation, and Problem Solving: Types of thinking (convergent, divergent, creative), Concept Formation: types (natural vs artificial concepts), Theories of concept formation (Bruner's theory), Problem Solving, Steps in problem solving, Methods- trial and error, algorithms, heuristics, insight learning (Kohler)

Sensory Memory and Short-Term Memory: Sensory Memory, Iconic and echoic memory, Characteristics-duration and capacity, Short-Term Memory (STM), Capacity (Miller's 7±2) and duration,

Encoding and rehearsal, Difference between sensory memory and STM, Role of attention in memory processing

Verbal Learning: Types of verbal learning- Paired associate learning, Serial learning, Free recall, Factors affecting verbal learning- Meaningfulness, motivation, repetition, practice, Forgetting in verbal learning, educational implications

(ii) Research assignment: 15 Marks

Research assignment should be done on any topic by the student. Viva-voce would be conducted during practical examination and viva-voce marking criteria will include subject knowledge, methodological rigor and communication.

Element	Requirement
Style	APA 7th Edition (Font, Margins, Citations).
Structure	Abstract, Introduction, Method, Results, Discussion, References, Appendices.
Plagiarism	Below 15%
Appendices	Must include raw data samples, consent forms and statistical tool copies.

UNIT-A Total: 60 Marks
Practical: 45 Marks; Internal Assessment:15 Marks

Four practical's, one in each of the following areas, have to be carried out:
1. Perceptual Processes
2. Psychophysics: Classical & Signal Detection Theory
3. Imagery
4. Sociometry

Students should be familiar with the working of the following apparatuses:
1. Reaction Time Apparatus
2. Haufmann-Kasanin Test
3. Voice Key
4. Pulse Bio feed –back Apparatus
5. G.S.R. Bio feed-back Apparatus
6. Electromyographic Recorder
7. Rod and frame test
8. Memory Drum
9. Tachistoscope
10. Kymograph, Chronoscope, Marker, Tambour, Sphymomanometer, Induction coil, Stopwatch.

UNIT-B Total: 40 Marks
(i) Theoretical long question: 20 Marks
(ii) Research assignment:15 Marks
Internal Assessment for Unit B (ii): 05 Marks

(i) Theoretical long question: 20 Marks
There will be two long questions from the following and students have to attempt any one out of the two during practical examination.

Perceptual Processes: Perceptual organization, Gestalt laws (figure–ground, proximity, similarity, closure, continuity), Perceptual constancies (size, shape, brightness, colour), Depth perception (monocular and binocular cues), Perceptual errors and illusions, Educational and applied significance of perception

Classical Psychophysics: Thresholds, Absolute threshold, Difference threshold (JND), Psychophysical methods, Method of limits, Method of constant stimuli, Method of adjustment, Weber's Law, Fechner's Law, Applications of classical psychophysics, Signal Detection Theory (SDT): Basic concepts: signal, noise, Outcomes- hits, misses, false alarms, correct rejections, Practical applications of SDT

Imagery: Types of imagery- Visual, Auditory, Motor, Theoretical approaches- Analog/depictive theory (Kosslyn),Propositional theory (Pylyshyn),Role of imagery in cognitive processes, Applications of imagery in education, sports, and psychotherapy

Psychological Scales and Applied Measures: Areas assessed, administration, scoring, and interpretation, Use of scales in assessment, diagnosis and intervention planning of Academic Motivation Scale, Developmental Checklist, Neuro-Psychological Scale and Well-Being Scale

Integrated Evaluation and Application: Comparison of objective tests, projective techniques, and psychological scales, Strengths and limitations of different assessment methods, Importance of ethical and culturally sensitive assessment practices

(ii) Research assignment: 15 Marks
Research assignment comprises of a research paper presentation and the following outline is to be followed for research paper presentation.

Title Slide: Title of the research paper, name(s) of author(s), year of publication, journal name, student's name, course, semester, and institution

Introduction: Brief overview of the research area, Rationale for choosing the study, Importance and relevance of the topic

Review of Literature (Brief): Key theories or previous studies referred to in the paper, Research gap identified by the authors

Objectives / Research Questions / Hypotheses: Clearly state: Research objectives, and/or

Research questions, and/or Hypotheses if applicable

Research Methodology: Research Design (e.g., experimental, correlational, descriptive, qualitative), Sample size (age, gender, inclusion and exclusion criteria), Sampling technique

Tools / Instruments Used: Names and authors of scales/tests

Procedure: Step-by-step process of data collection

Ethical Considerations: Informed consent, confidentiality, ethical approval (if stated)

Data Analysis and Statistical Techniques: e.g., t-test, ANOVA, correlation, regression, thematic analysis etc, justification for using these techniques

Results: Key findings of the study, Use of tables, graphs, or figures (simplified), Interpretation of results in simple language, whether hypotheses were accepted or rejected

Discussion: Explanation of results in relation to research objectives and existing literature, theoretical and practical implications and how the findings contribute to psychology

Semester-4 PSY-RBC-403

Paper : Research Methodology and Statistics (RM)-IV

Total: 100Marks
Theory: 80 Marks
Internal Assessment: 20 Marks
Time Allowed: 3hours

Objectives:
Toprovidethestudentstheknowledge,understanding,andapplications of qualitativemethods, standardizationofpsychologicaltests and techniques.
